CENTER BENEFIT — Open Door Day Care Center of Taylortown will benefit from proceeds of the Fashion For Flowers Show. Shown above is the graduation class of 4 year olds assisting members of the Garden Club of the Sandhills weed the flower beds. With them are Mrs. Francis Howe. (second from right), co-chairman of the fashion show, and landscape helpers Mrs. Perry Jones (center) and Mrs. Gordon Dalton (left). Not present was Mrs. George Parson. Director of the Center, Ms. Sandra Nelson, is at right.—(Photo by Bob Rufa).

Fashion Show Slated Oct. 2

BY MARGARET DALTON

If it's important, it must be Razooks, and if it is an important event, it must be the Fashion for Flowers benefit luncheon and style show featuring Razook's fall and winter collection of gowns and furs.

This gala affair, produced by the Garden Club of the Sandhills, will take place on Tuesday, October 2, at the Pinehurst Members' Clubhouse.

Members of the Garden Club of the Sandhills have been working on details since early February under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Stephens and Mrs. Francis Howe.

Mrs. James Tufts has been designing the background of flowering plants and special table decorations coordinating colors with Mrs. Russell Strickland who is in charge of invitation and programs.

Advisors are: Mrs. Robert Myers and Mrs. Thomas Jerman. Committee chairmen are: Reservations—Mrs. Hilton Weinig and Mrs. Robert Parman; Hostesses—Mrs. Ralph Struck; Distribution of invitations—Mrs. Robert Drake; Treasurer—Mrs. Bryant Lindley; Secretary—Mrs. Perry Jones; Special floral arrangements—Mrs. Leonard Heaton and Mrs. John Dorsey; Dining room arrangements—Mrs. Lionel Callaway; and Publicity—Mrs. Gordon Dalton.

Michael Dunn, Vice President of Razooks—Pinehurst, promises a display of the newest styles.

Chef David Rasf of the Pinehurst Members' Clubhouse will offer a menu and the manager, James Huneycutt, with his assistant, Mrs. Pat Frye, will see that all goes smoothly. And last but of great importance, Jimmie Kimball will put it all to music.