Early Response Promising For Fashions For Flowers

Mrs. Roderick H. McAllister, chairperson for "Fashions for Flowers," states "early response has been promising for this annual benefit sponsored by the Garden Club of the Sandhills."

On Wednesday, Oct. 23, Razook's will provide an exciting fall and winter preview of fashions for all occasions at the Country Club of North Carolina.

Mrs. Grover B. Simpson has announced the names of those who will model in the show: Mesdames Mark Brenner, Matthew Dyer, Dixon Gerber, Charles A. McLendon, H. Maxwell Morrison Jr., Edward E. Palmer, George S. Parker, Rick Williamson, William Youngclaus, Ms. Susan Simpson Jordan and Ms. Yvonne Snead.

An elegant lunch will follow the fashion show as well as an opportunity to participate in a drawing for a timely outfit generously donated by Razook's.

Mrs. Braddock Greene chairperson of New Projects, is ready to put the proceeds to excellent use for the beautification of the ecologically sensitive Sandhills.

Committee members Mrs. Russell S. Strickland, Mrs. Steven J. Smith and Mrs. Robert Springer propose to add several more projects to the list of those that are continuing.

Sandhills Hospice has been the recipient of colorful and appropriate plantings.

Early reservations are suggested as seating is limited.
